DESCRIPTION

Inside, the villa feels calm, open and considered. Light moves easily through the space, with large windows and clean architectural lines creating a sense of flow between indoors and out. There are five bedrooms and seven bathrooms, thoughtfully arranged across multiple levels, with a lift connecting each floor for complete ease.

The living space is designed for togetherness — a relaxed lounge, elegant dining area and a fully equipped kitchen that works just as well for quiet breakfasts as it does for hosting. Everything you need is here, seamlessly integrated into a sleek modern design.

Elsewhere, the villa reveals its more playful side. A private cinema and games area invite slower evenings in, while the sauna offers a quieter kind of indulgence.

Outside is where the villa truly settles into its surroundings. A private pool sits within the garden, framed by terraces made for long, unhurried days in the sun.

And then there's the rooftop.

Up here, the atmosphere shifts. A jacuzzi, open sky and uninterrupted sea views create a space that feels removed from everything — the perfect place to end the day.

Why it's got the WOW Factor

There's something special about being this close to the sea.

At Casa Vilik, the frontline beach setting isn't just a feature — it shapes the entire experience. It brings a sense of calm, of space, of stepping slightly away from the pace of everyday life.

The villa itself complements this perfectly. Clean, modern design. Generous living spaces. Corners to socialise, and corners to retreat.

And then, of course, the rooftop. Because every great Marbella villa needs that one spot everyone gravitates to — and here, it's the place where views, light and atmosphere come together effortlessly.

All of this, set within the quiet charm of Cortijo Blanco, just minutes from the energy of Puerto Banús.

What's close?

A stay with Swish is designed to feel easy from the very beginning.

Before you arrive, the villa is prepared with luxury bedding, soft towels and our signature Meraki toiletries, so everything feels exactly as it should from the moment you walk in.

From there, our concierge team takes care of the details.

Private chefs, airport transfers, boat days, restaurant bookings, in-villa treatments — whatever your version of a perfect stay looks like, we'll help make it happen.

You can be as hands-on or as hands-off as you like.

We'll take care of the rest.
